EDMONTON LETTER

(By G. M. Stout)

Edmonton, February 17th.—Once upon a time the boys of literature in the press gallery were able to predict with reasonable certainty what the legislature would do on any given day at least, and advance their bets accordingly. The no longer is it so. In Alberta's law-making, no longer is there a chamber depending on the side you're on, that its arach web paper scribbles will predict anything anyone within sight of the lion and unicorn about Mr. Speaker's chair backed, and harder bottomed hard.

Opening day hereafter, with all its color, uniforms, new gowns and military array, was always the same, strictly confined to formality and ceremonial. Last Thursday the general show was at least the equal of anything that has gone before, but that wasn't all. So soon as routine procedure was run through, and the speech from the throne took some time owing to its length, speaker Dawson surprised even the new government. A. J. Hooke, special credit agent, adjourning the house one hour.

At 5 o'clock had trooped His Majesty's loyal legislators to be asked to vote all procedure rules and to pass a resolution regarding the minister of justice to consider demerit for Jos. Unwin, member for Edmonton. G. F. Powell, special credit agent, advised, who at one o'clock on the same afternoon had entered Fort Saskatchewan to begin three and six months sentences as punishment for writing and publishing leaflets defaming the character of prominent Edmonton barristers and business men. The opposition declined to permit rules to be waived however. There was an unprecedented division but of course procedure restrictions prevented the motion being accepted even with one vote in opposition and the matter stood over until Friday.

Back came the resolution on the second day full passport to put the opposition "on the spot" which it undoubtedly did. Not only did it ask demerit for Unwin and Powell but it claimed the libellous leaflet was only a "humorous dodger" and its contents an "unfortunate combination of ambiguous words never intended to attack anyone," and, further, that the convictions and sentences had disturbed public opinion and given rise to the impression that a grave miscarriage of justice had occurred.

Opposition members protested first of all that such a resolution with reference to the courts was not permissible under the rules, but urged also that members must unflinchingly stand side the house and join in an appeal to the minister of justice for demerit for their fellow-member Unwin. They read in the motion a direct insult to the trial and appeal division and the supreme court of the province. If they voted for the motion they censured the courts; if they voted, may they registered against any effort to reduce Unwin's punishment, a proposal they said they were in hearty accord with, though not from the assembly in formal sitting, when government forces insisted on division. Liberals, Conservatives, Independents and three non-concurrence members of the government absented themselves from the chamber. Only Dr. Peter Campbell, now only member for Lethbridge, remained to stand alone in opposition benches against the resolution.

Previously premier Aberhart, an attorney general, had asked the minister of justice to remit the sentences, refused by Hon. Ernest Lapointe on the grounds that such action would be taken throughout Canada as a reflection on the courts and an attempt to interfere with their freedom. To all intents and purposes the vote in the legislature with the opposition absent amounted to a vote in caucus of government forces.

Several bills were introduced for first reading and the debate on the speech from the throne began by James Hartley, Macleod, Monday. The speech itself ran to about 2,000 words and did not definitely predict anything out of the ordinary for the session's consideration other than debt reduction measure and more hard-surfacing for roads.

The government forecast indicated "the probable success of the new economic order now being made in this province," but Mr. Hartley went further and declared the dividends would be paid. He expanded at length however, on the fact that nothing the

CONNIE SMYTHE WINS IN HOTEL PROJECT

The proposal to open a hotel close to the Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto has been beaten after a stiff fight in the Board of Control. Connie Smythe, manager of the Maple Leaf Hockey team, fought with all his might against the hotel project, knowing that the hotel was but a preliminary to a liquor license. Friends of temperance stood by Mr. Smythe and he has won a vote of thanks to Dr. John Coburn in the acknowledgment of the assistance rendered by our Board of Evangelism and Social Service.—New Outlook.

ROAD PLANS IN THRONE SPEECH

Boosters for hard surfacing of highways in Alberta were given much encouragement by the speech from the throne, read at the opening of the provincial legislature on February 10. An indication of what Alberta is intending to expand this year is found recently by the Department of Public Works when it asked the Dominion Government for a $1,000,000 outlay dollar for dollar, which would mean a $2,000,000 expenditure on roads this year.

HOCKEY GAME SATURDAY

Gleichen Gunners and Strathmore Red Wings will play their first game in Strathmore on Saturday night at 8:15 p.m. February 19th.

MRS FISHER SUGGESTS FOR LUNCHEON

Canadian Fish and Cheese Casserole.—Place a layer of cooked pasta or cooked spaghetti in the bottom of a large shallow, greased baking dish. Place on the vegetables a layer of any variety of Canadian fish or fillets cut into suitable serving portions. Sprinkle salt and pepper and cooking oil over the fish. Place the dish in a hot oven for 6 or 8 minutes. Then, having a cheese sauce ready, pour it over the fish, sprinkle with fine bread crumbs, dotted with butter, and put the dish back in the oven until the top is nicely browned. The cheese sauce may be made as follows: Melt 2 tablespoons of butter, blend with 1/2 cup of milk; add 1/2 cup of liquid (to cup or milk); cook the mixture until it is thick and smooth, stirring constantly, and before removing it from the stove add half a cup of grated Canadian cheese, and continue to stir the sauce until the cheese melts.

Canadian fish are rich in vitamins and in health-building minerals and, having regard to nutritive value, are among the most nourishing of foods.

An American staying in a London hotel was told by an American friend, who asked him: "And what country do you belong to?"

The greatest country in the world? replied the American.

Man. So do I, replied Sandy. But you dinna speak like a Scotsman.

What Purposes do Life Insurance Premiums Serve?

Answer.—They provide your dependants a guaranteed sum in the event of your death—or provide money for your old age.

Question.—What is done with the premiums you pay?

Answer.—The savings which you put into Life Insurance are combined with those of other policyholders and are carefully invested in the best interests of all policyholders.

Q.—What is the guarantee back of these invested funds?

A.—The security of the individual loans, in addition to the integrity of the borrowers—whether governments, corporations, or individuals.

Q.—Why are premiums called savings?

A.—Because, year after year, they build up the fund out of which payments to policyholders and beneficiaries are made.

Q.—How much of this money is paid out to policyholders and beneficiaries in Canada?

A.—Half a Million Dollars every business day.

This is the second of a series of messages sponsored by Life Insurance Companies of Canada. The third, to appear in two weeks' time, will discuss Life Insurance assets.

He goes out with his Dreams
Through the dingy city square,
Purple — and silver-winged.
They go with him everywhere.

The quarrelsome bags at the windows
Have voices unkind, unweave,
But his Dreams have silver voices
And starchy-slipped feet;

The workmen push on the pavement
And laugh and curse as they go,
But he is far with his Dreams:
On a road they do not know;

He walks far off with the Dreams
That whisper and sing beside,
And his face is glad and still
And his eyes are burning wide;

He goes out with his Dreams
Through a golden wonder-land
With the light of God in his eyes
And the peace of God in his face.

To make money under Canadian farming conditions calls for plenty of speedy, thrifty power... not sport-model lines or trick features, but proved performance and proved economy... not merely operating costs when new, but TOTAL cost over many years. Hundreds of reports by owners of Case tractors 4 to 8 years old show that Case has cut power costs to the lowest levels in tractor history.

Call on your Case dealer for facts and figures. See how Case gets fast, flexible power from a wide variety of low-cost fuels... any standardized tractor fuel from distillates to gasoline. See how Case tractors have run 4 to 8 years of upkeep averaging less than one hour an hour on average... how their owners expect them to give 10 to 17 years of work. Compare your costs with theirs... see how much you can save in 1938 and for years to come by changing to Case NOW.

MADAME CASGRAIN OF QUEBEC WORKING FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN HER PROVINCE

Quebec Suffrage—Oh, it's picturesque as can be, seeing a woman pulling her share of a plow, the other other share pulled by a young steer; and if you asked the women about it, most of them would be likely to say you were silly to disturb yourself—but the fact is that in picturesque Quebec, where women work shoulder to shoulder with their men—and sometimes with their livestock—they have not the legal right to vote. It's the only place in Canada or the United States where this is so. But equal suffrage has its champion in the wife of the Speaker of the House of Commons, Madame Pierre Casgrain, leader of La Ligue des Droits de Femmes. Through Women's Clubs, radio programs, and other avenues the word goes out and the women should have their share in politics, even as they should their share of the economic burden. So skill is to be introduced to that effect in the Quebec Parliament. It would make ballots as fair as the yoke. —The Christian Science Monitor.

DEMOCRATIC RULE IN INDIA

The extensive constitutional reforms being tried out in India, after a not altogether favorable start in 1937, are now operating smoothly, though Lord Linlithgow in his capacity of British Viceroy upon the spot, has issued a warning against undue optimism at this early stage. "It would be foolish of me," Lord Linlithgow said in Calcutta recently, "to suggest that all difficulties have been overcome, or that problems may not arise in which there may be substantial and serious differences of view." The "trial" of the new system that has been brought into operation has consisted in the handing over of the governments of the eleven major provinces—some as big as first-class European states—to ministers responsible to a popularly elected Indian legislature. This first stage is working exceedingly well, strong hopes are entertained that it will prove possible to complete the system at a very early date. The portion of it which is to be started is to consist in the setting up of a central Federal Government to link the democratically ruled provinces alike with one another and with a number of dependent states now ruled paternally by Indian princes.

The initial elections for the legislature of thirteen provinces, held about a year ago, gave control of seven of these essential bodies into the hands of the Indian National Congress, a political organization long hostile to the British connection. But, since then, the responsibilities of the five now so sobered political aspirants as to have resulted in vastly more favorable working conditions than were at first thought possible. As the result of this favorable state of things the whole complicated machinery of the new provincial governments has during the past six months been running on wheels. This is an achievement for which congratulations are due alike to the Indian ministers, to Lord Linlithgow and to his lieutenants, the provincial governors. Credit also belongs to Mr. Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi (the Mahatma), likewise to Mr. Jawaharlal Nehru for the statesmanship and moderation shown.

KAMAKA

HOCKEY NOTES

The Strathmore Junior "Penguins" (local Senators) snuffed out under about out of the season by trouncing their new christening by the first (the) Wood Dynamos 3-0 in a wide open hockey fixture here Thursday. Harold Freeman, local custodian played his finest game to date and with the Penguin defense held the Dynamos scoreless. The forward line did some fine back checking to break up many dangerous rushes the visitors attempted.

Taylor and Van Tighem combined to put the locals 1 up and 10 minutes later Van Tighem and MacGregor made it 3-0 to end the period. There was no score in the second. Penalty—Melrose.

MacGregor and Kimmetz finished the game's scoring on a neat piece of combination. No penalties.

Redwings — Brooks

The local Redwings advanced into the second round of the Stanley Cup playoffs by defeating Brooks Irrigators 3-1 here last night. (Leaving the 3-1 at Brooks the locals took the round 1-2). The game was fast, in fact, the locals dominated in every department and phase of the encounter. The visitor's lone tally was not scored on Cleve but was allowed on a loose-rick penalty. O. Groux bagged 2 goals and obtained 2 assists. Koch, C. Van Tighem, C. Groux each counted one while D. Malmberg is credited with two assists. Groux got 3 assists and L. Van Tighem and A. Malmberg each one.

The first period ended 3-0. Penalties—O. Groux.

The second period finished at 3-0. Penalties—Garrick.

The last frame ended the game at 3-1. Penalties—A. Malmberg, C. Groux and O. Groux.

CERTIFIED AND REGISTERED SEED

Alberta Pool Elevators is anxious to encourage the use of registered and certified seed grain as far as practical, and consequently arrangements have been made to co-operate with the provincial government in its seed exchange policy.

At this time of the year many farmers are giving consideration to the problem of better seed. It would appear that the best method they can follow is to take advantage of the government plan. By means of this they can obtain registered and certified seed in exchange for their own grain on a certain specified ratio. Title of cereals and a list of the seed exchange plan for obtaining the desired types of seed.

It is suggested that grain producers desirous of taking advantage of this plan should get in touch with the Pool agent at their nearest point and obtain full details.

WEIGHING GRAIN IN TERMINAL

ELEVATORS

Terminal elevators handle millions of bushels of grain annually. This grain is weighed so accurately and so closely that a maximum overage of only one-quarter of one per cent is allowed. Under the Canada Grain Act any excess in weights over the prescribed margin is confiscated by the government. Any loss is absorbed by the Terminal Elevator.

WESTERN GRAIN DEALERS'

ASSOCIATION

Oh, yes, of course, tug-of-war. I've heard of them.
